Claims 12-21 are presented for examination.

Applicants' election filed January 21, 2003 in response to the restriction requirement of December 20, 2002 has been received and entered. The applicants elected the invention described in claims 18-21 (Group III).

Claims 12-17 are withdrawn from consideration as being drawn to the non-elected invention 37 CFR (1.142(b)).

Claim Rejections - 35 U.S.C. § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

Claims 18-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(a) as being anticipated by Vichkanova et al. (R).

Vichkanova et al. teach a study of antimicrobial activity of naphthoquinones against Mycobacterium tuberculosis. Note the naphthoquinone used in the reference is plumbagin (methyljuglone). Clearly, the cited reference anticipates the application instant invention, therefore, the instant invention is unpatentable.

Claims 18-20 are not allowed.

Claim Rejections - 35 U.S.C. § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 21 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over

Vichkanova et al. (R).

Vichkanova et al. was discussed above supra for the antimicrobial activity of naphthoquinones.

The instant invention differs from the cited reference in that the cited reference does not teach the instant invention is administered orally, intravenously, intramuscularly or transdermally. However, one skilled in the art would have administered the instant invention to any host or subject by any mode of administration since the various of modes of administration are routinely used in the pharmaceutical art.

Claim 21 is not allowed.
